Honeywell Speech Solutions

Pavel Kolcarek, Honeywell

Automatic speech recognition is a very promising technology for the aviation industry, but also very demanding. The talk will provide an overview of current Honeywell speech solutions and their main characteristics for the cockpit environment. The R&D work will be presented in the context of large EU research programs like SESAR and Clean Sky.